FIRST-HAND FEEDBACK

Canvas Collective Africa – Cape Town-based Alex Rautenbach from the Product Team spent a night at this new glamping camp, located at the start of the Hemel-en-Aarde Valley (halfway between Caledon and Hermanus). This is for your more adventurous guests who enjoy visiting off-the-beaten track destinations. The camp nestles in a pine forest on a private farm. Activities include walks and more strenuous hikes through the protea and fynbos vegetation, swimming in the dam, and mountain biking. Guests can also get involved in the interactive kitchen. Tents are spacious, and tastefully and practically appointed, with en-suite bathrooms (including a proper shower and hot running water). One can use this as a base to explore Hermanus and surrounds.

Highlight: Delicious fine-dining meals in the beautifully appointed Restaurant tent.
