GENERAL UPDATES

Wilderness Kulala Desert Lodge

Wilderness Kulala Desert Lodge has officially reopened, after being temporarily closed following a fire earlier this year. The main area has been completely – and beautifully – rebuilt, and updated images of the refurbished main area will be shared in a mailer this week.

Rhino Tracking Extended at Damaraland Camp extended to 03 July 2024

The first guests at the newly refurbished Wilderness Desert Rhino Camp arrive on 04 July 2024; accordingly, the rhino tracking activity at Damaraland Camp has been extended to 03 July 2024.

Water Levels & Rainfall Update

- River water levels are decreasing, including the Kunene River, where guests staying at Wilderness Serra Cafema do their water-based activities.
- The last row shows that the water levels have dropped by half in comparison to the same time last year.

See figures in the table below with river level readings from our gauging stations and site informants on 19th June 2024, for dates recorded from the 12th to the 19th June.
