LITTLE KULALA PURPOSE

Restoring the Wilderness

Once farmland used for subsistence goat farming, the Kulala Wilderness Reserve had very little indigenous wildlife. In 1996 Wilderness stepped in to rehabilitate the area and today the land and its wildlife have returned to their former glorious natural state.

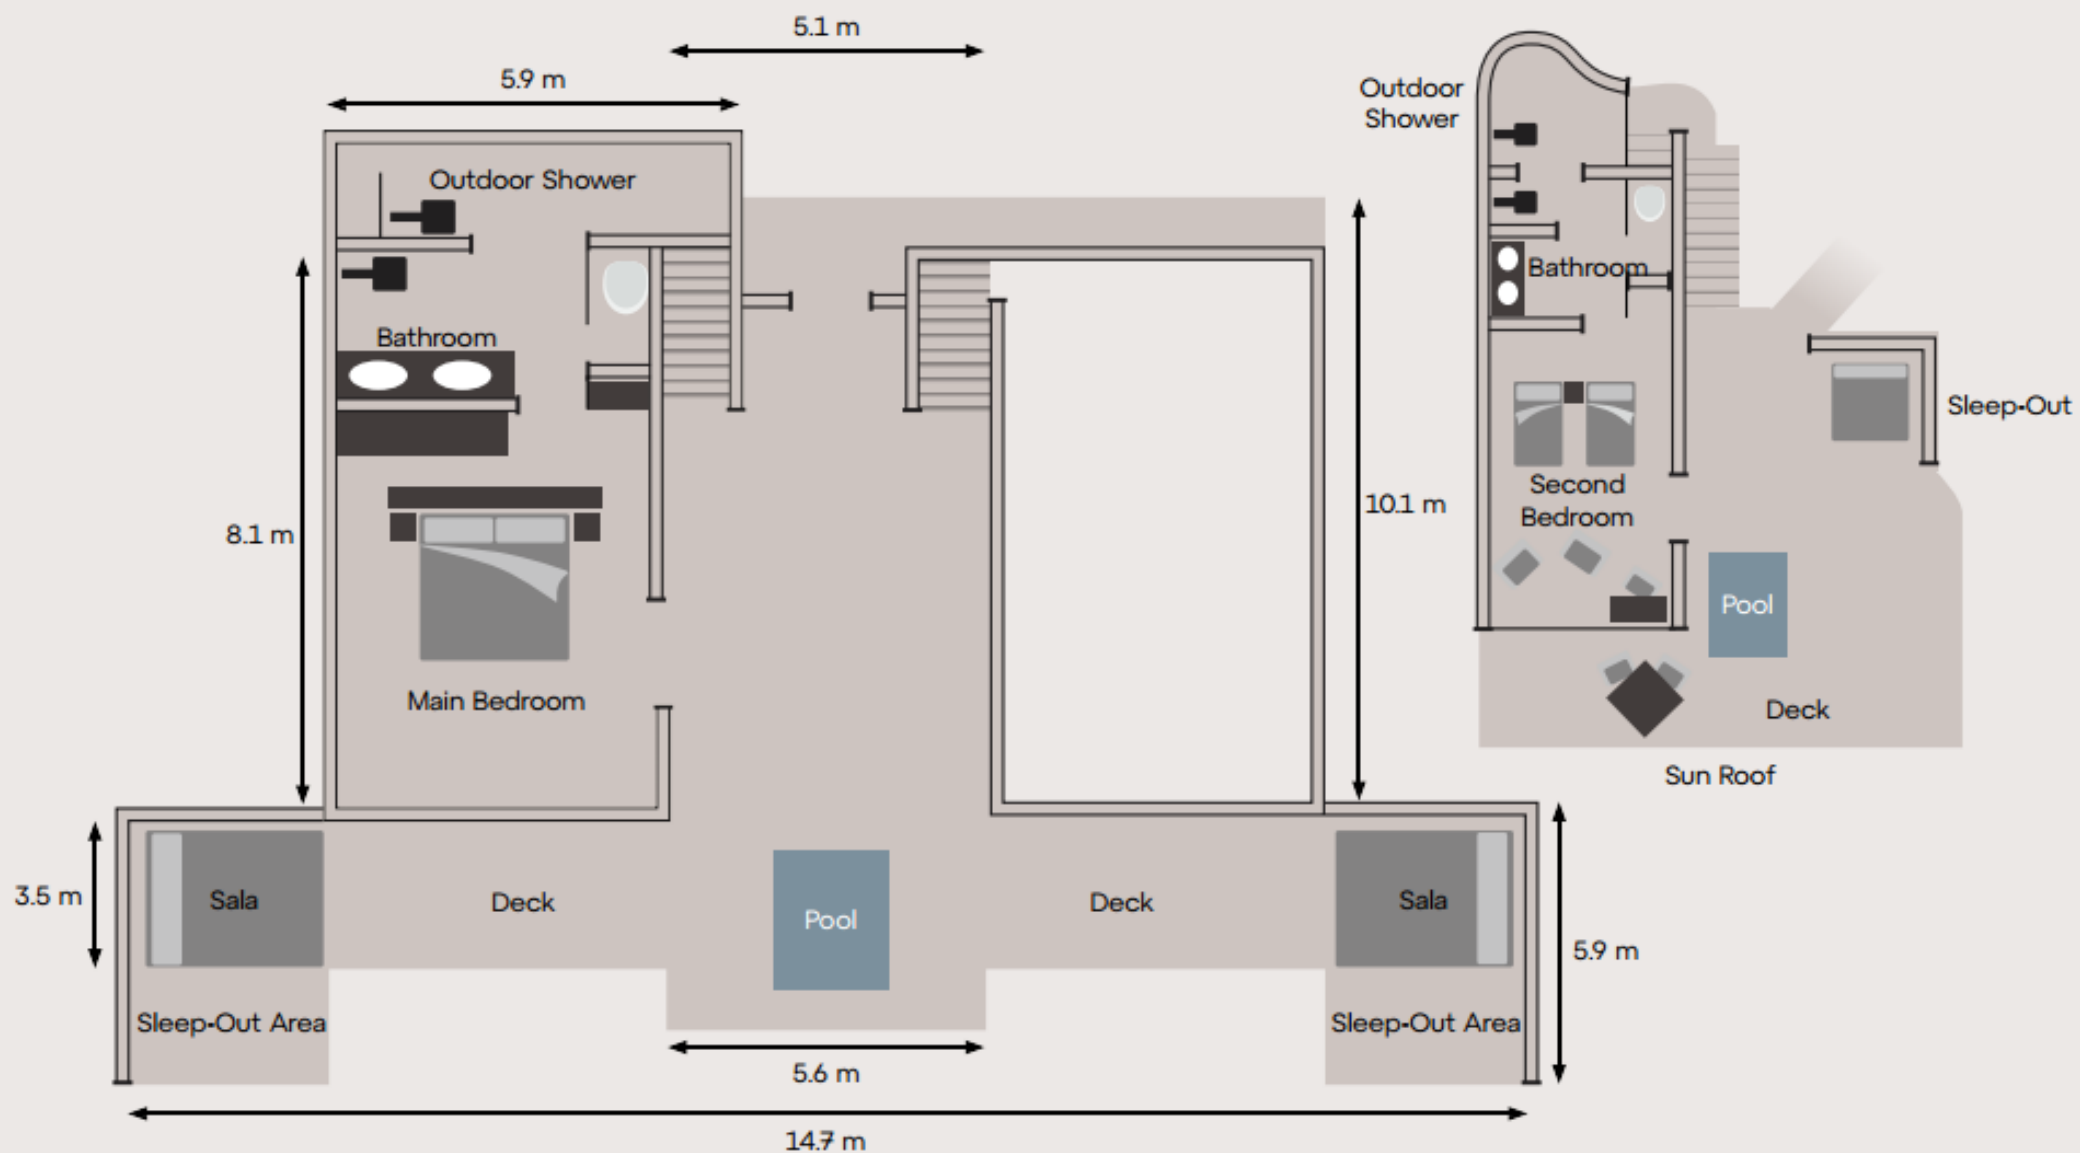

ACCOMMODATION

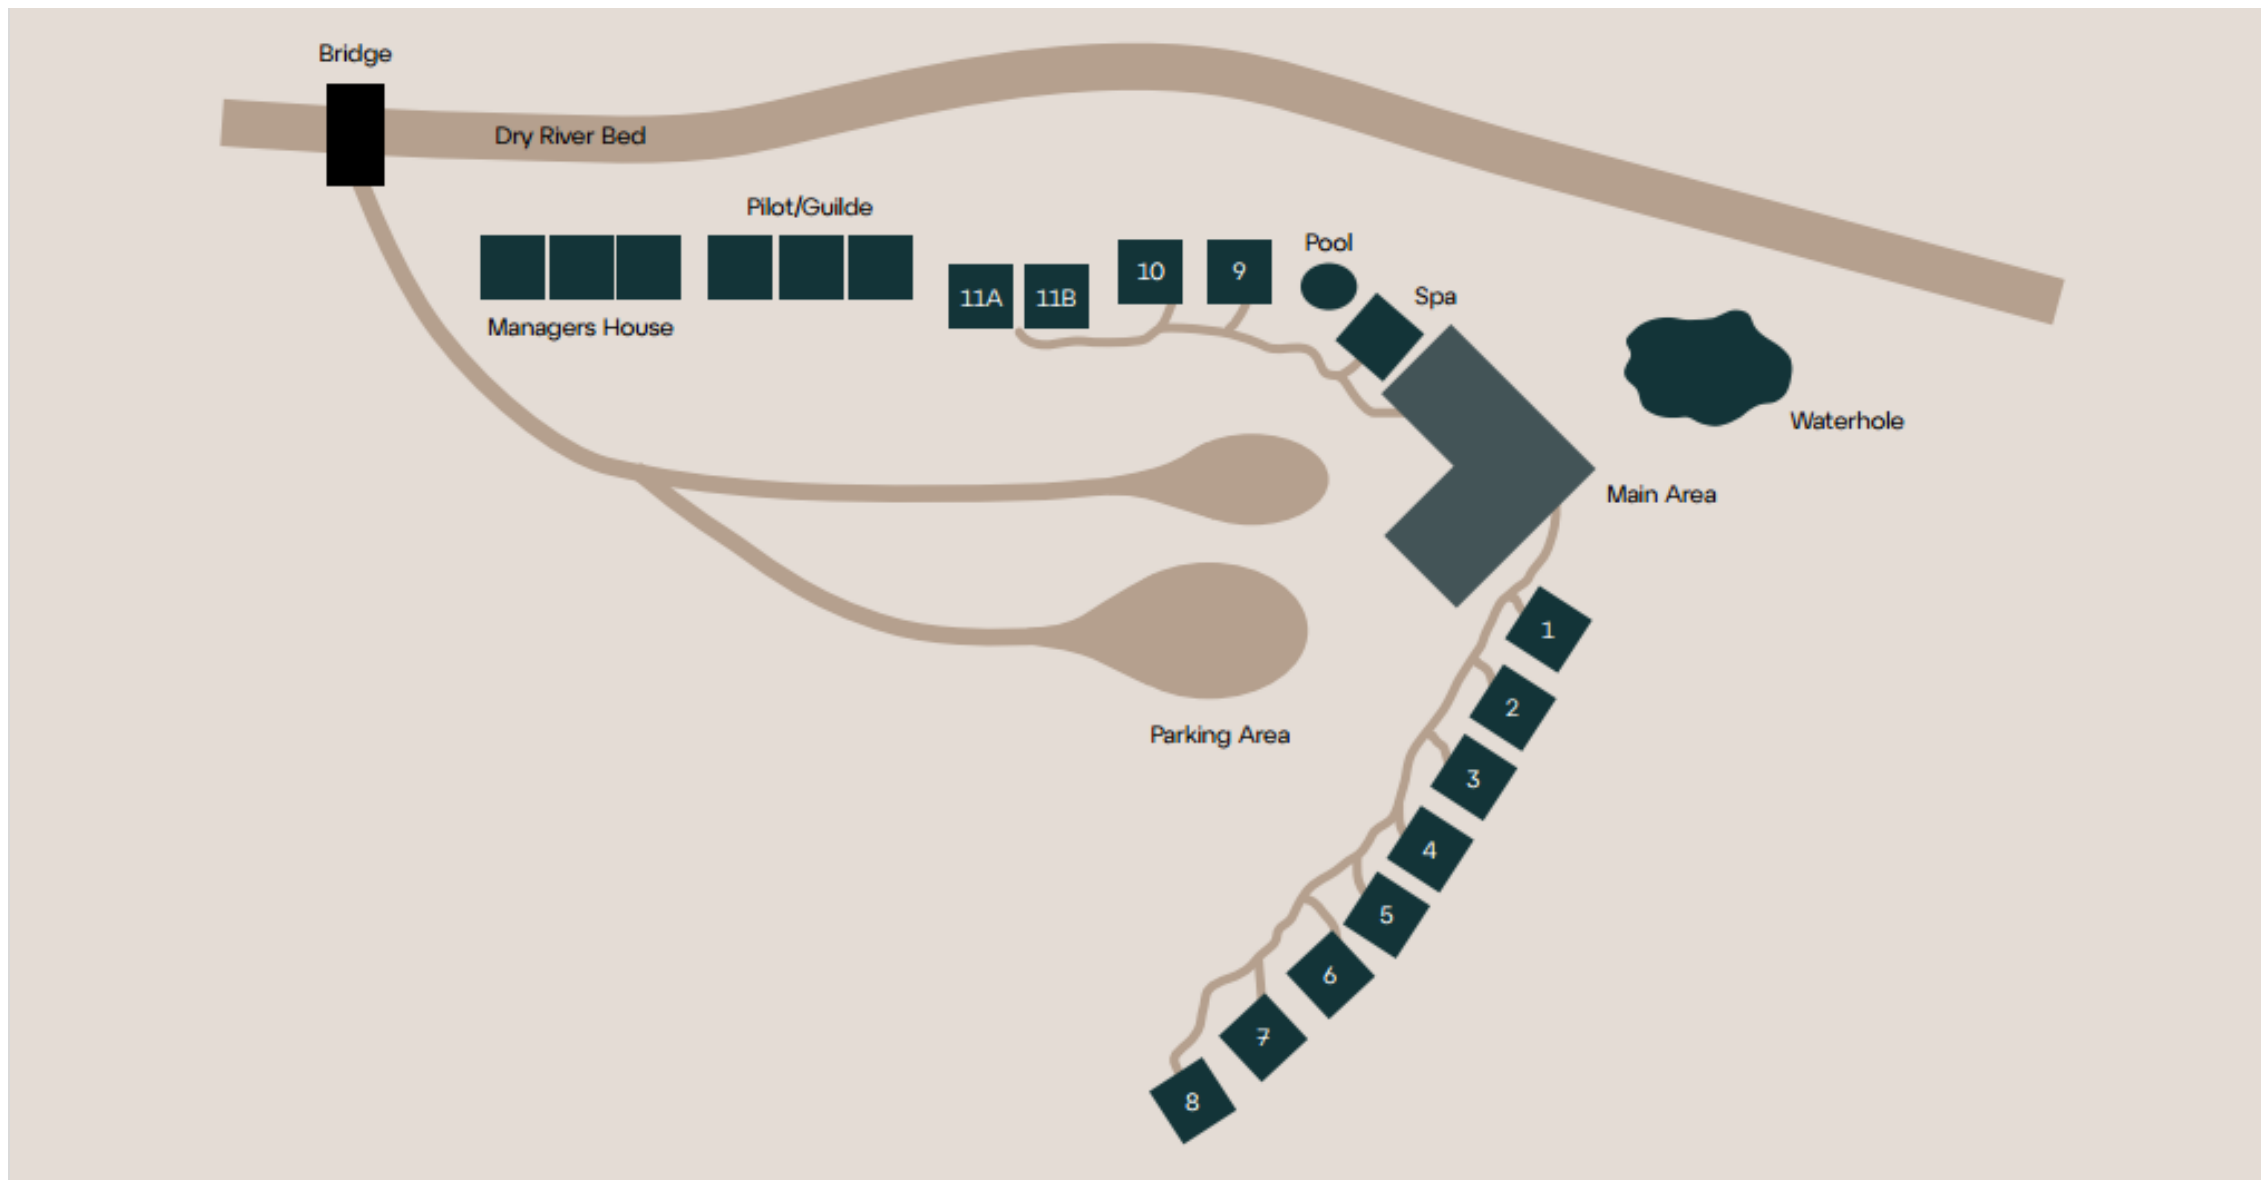

Embracing Namib vistas

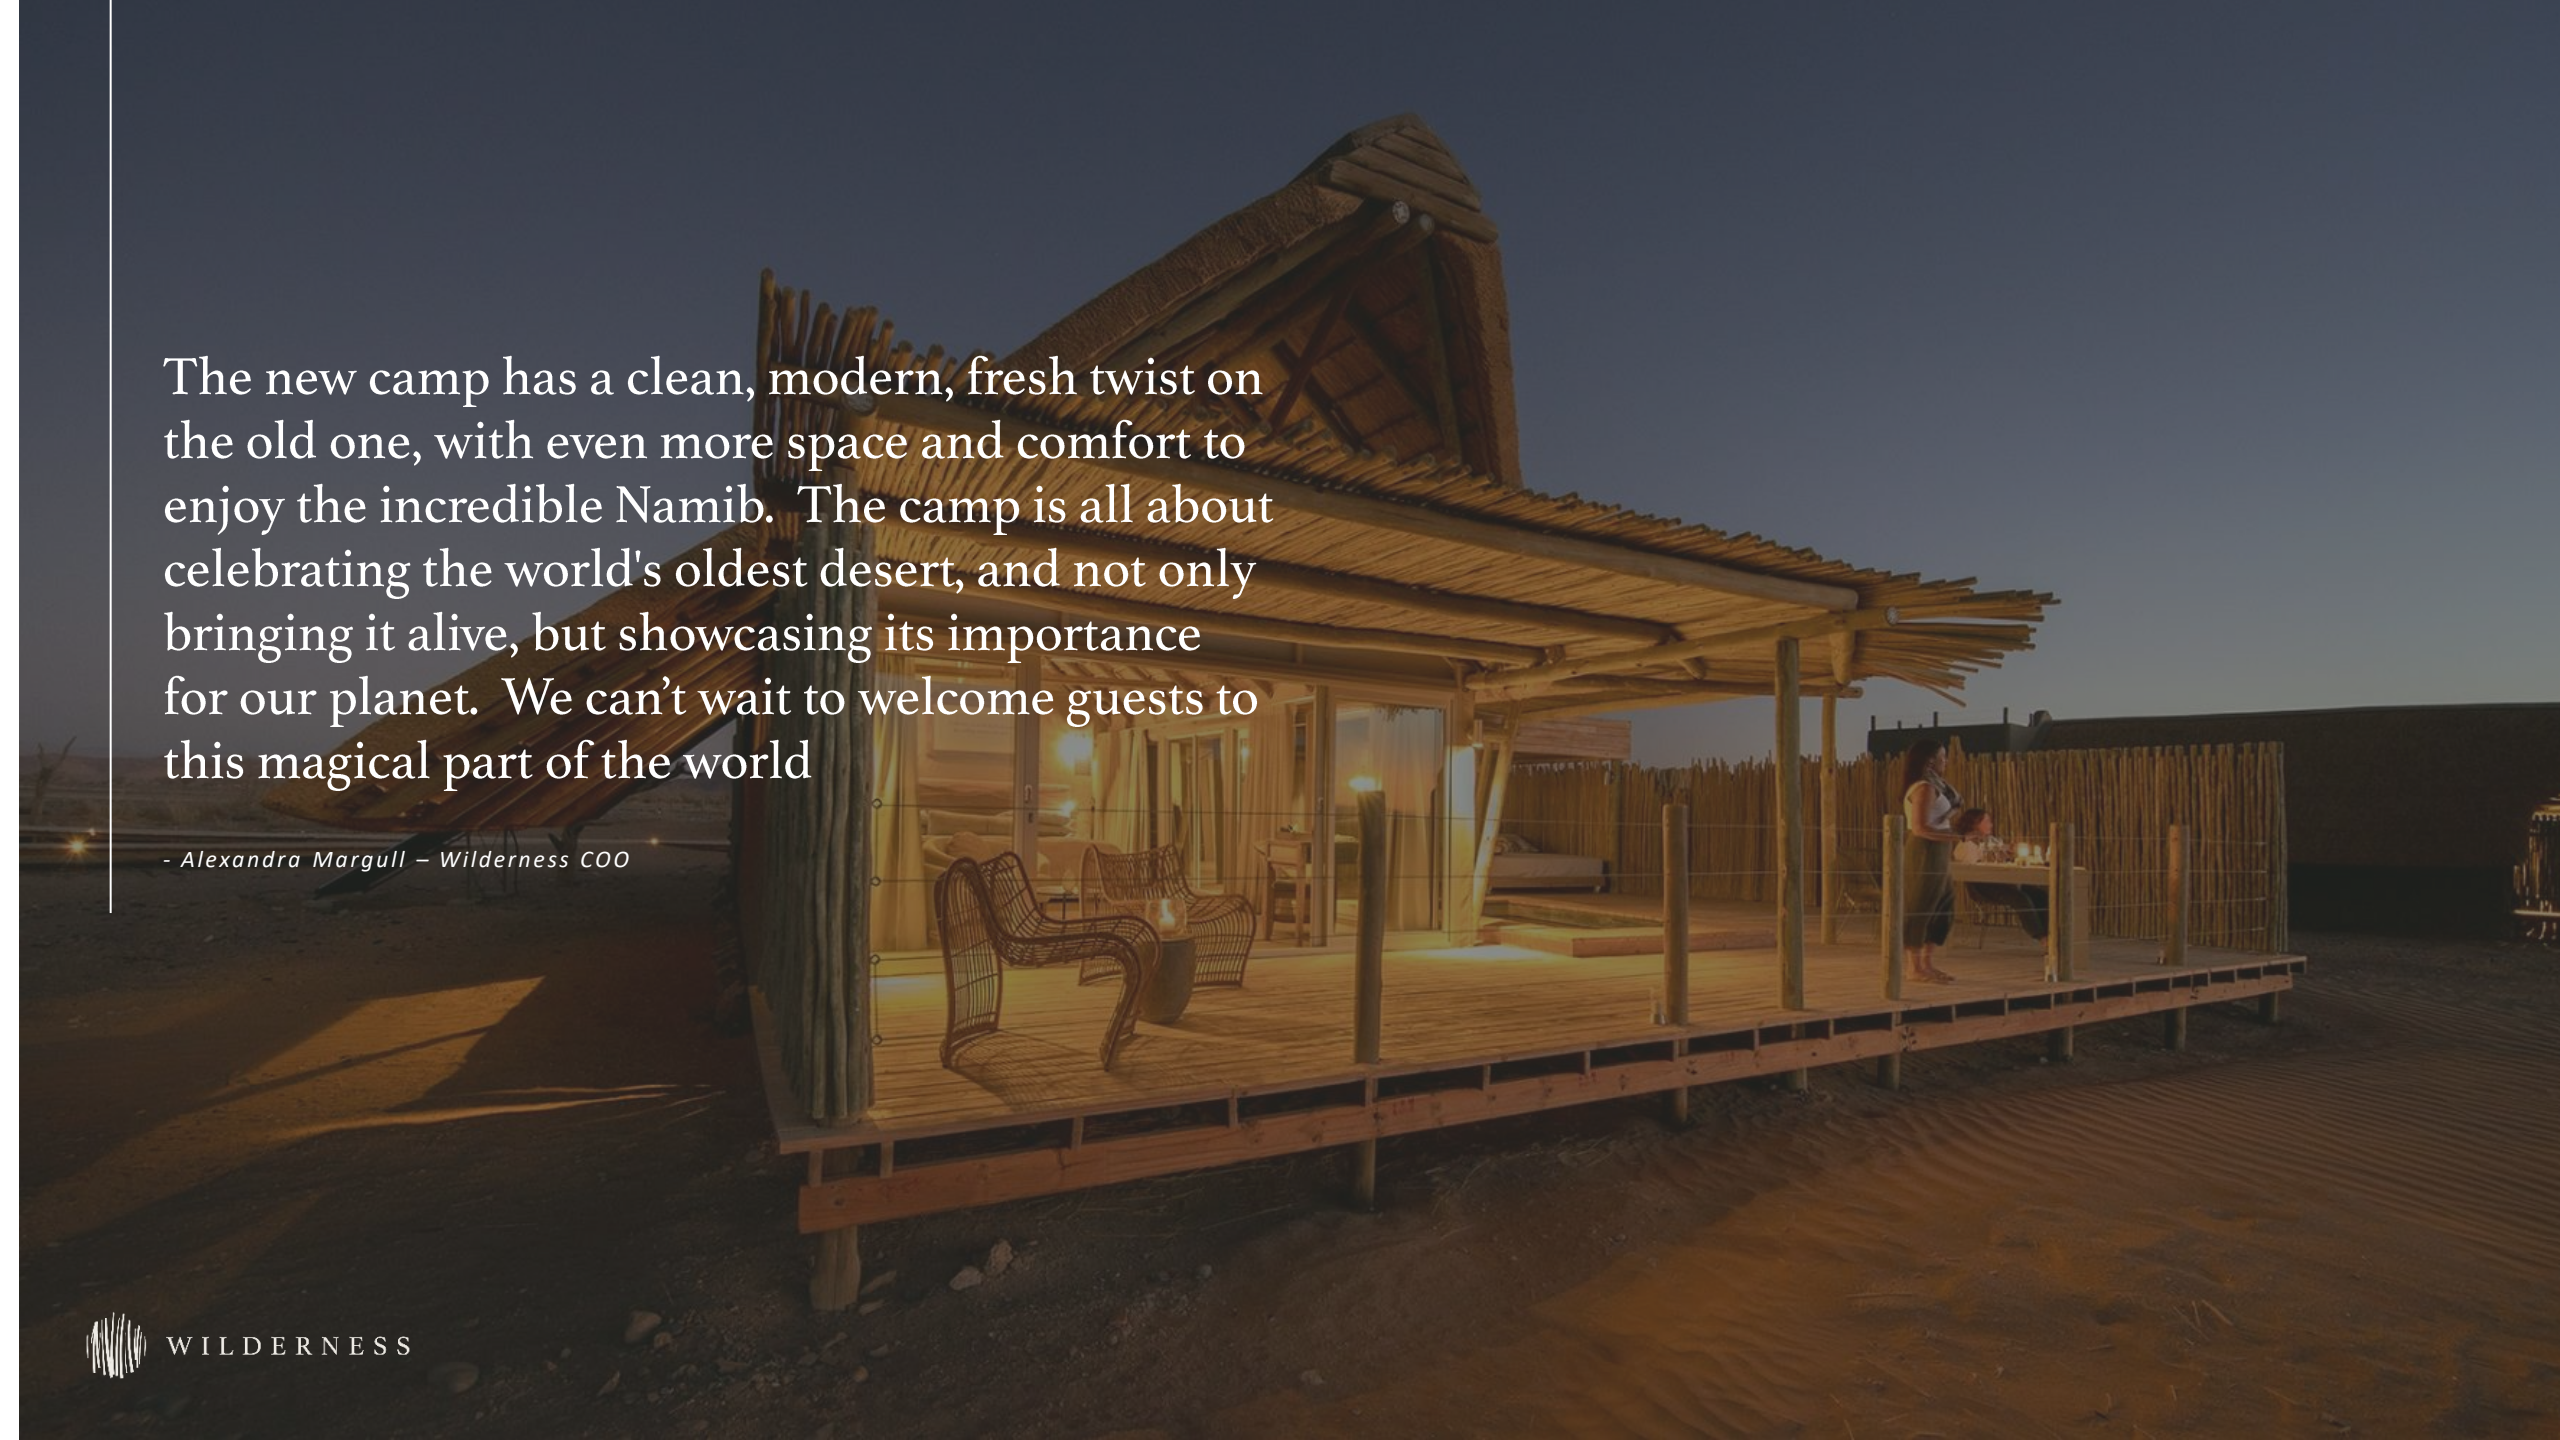

- Little Kulala is a living desert retreat in the heart of Sossusvlei. Peace and privacy can be found in all its spaces, including the Kulala Spa.
- Each large climate-controlled suite has a rooftop which can be used for starlit dinners or star gazing, and the spacious sala below has a private plunge pool and an area for outdoor siestas during the day, or sleep-outs under the stars.

SUITE

The new camp has a clean, modern, fresh twist on the old one, with even more space and comfort to enjoy the incredible Namib. The camp is all about celebrating the world's oldest desert, and not only bringing it alive, but showcasing its importance for our planet. We can't wait to welcome guests to this magical part of the world
