- Both the architecture of the lodge, and the interiors of the six exquisitely appointed en-suite Forest Villas mindfully embody the traditions of Rwandan royalty.
- Bisate's superior hospitality is inspired by its exuberant staff, cultural interactions and its sophisticated, locally sourced cuisine.

GUEST SUITE

A photograph of a stone path leading through a dense forest to a small, thatched-roof hut. The path is made of irregular stones and is flanked by tall grasses and various plants, including large green leaves with yellow flowers on the right. The hut has a warm, glowing light emanating from its entrance. The overall scene is serene and natural.

A magisterial example of what can be achieved at the top end of socially and environmentally conscious tourism. From the warmth of the "instant-family" staff, unique architecture, and inventive food experiences, to the thoughtful and luxurious surrounds – every moment of the stay is memorable. The contrasts, like the striking volcanic vistas and the gentle laughter drifting up from the villages in the evenings, are deeply moving. If you had to exchange your entire bucket list for one thing - this should be it.
