VUMBURA PLAINS CAMP | Gorgeous new Vumbura Plains' refreshed look and feel celebrates its sense of place and culture. New design elements showcase the camp's core purpose and partnership with the Okavango Community Trust, while art installations highlight Vumbura's heritage through individual stories on basket weaving, local fishing culture and the area's phenomenal wildlife.

An aerial photograph of the DumaTau camp, a luxury safari lodge, nestled in a dense, lush green forest. The camp is situated along the edge of a large, calm body of water, likely a lake or a wide river. The water reflects the warm, golden light of the setting sun, creating a shimmering effect. The camp features several large, open-air structures with conical, thatched roofs, which are elevated on wooden stilts. A network of wooden walkways and bridges connects these structures and extends into the water. In the foreground, a small boat with a canopy is docked at a wooden pier. The sky is filled with dramatic, dark clouds, with a few wispy clouds catching the last light of the day. The overall atmosphere is serene and majestic, highlighting the camp's integration with the natural environment.

DUMATAU | The Linyanti is a region criss-crossed by ancestral migration trails. Contributing to the preservation of these vital wildlife highways gives the completely redesigned DumaTau its purpose. An intimate haven of sophisticated elegance, the camp lies between two wildlife corridors. Here, you marvel at the parade of wild creatures without leaving your suite, or the brand-new Osprey Retreat's excellent gym, spa or charming deli.

JAO | Completely rebuilt in 2019, Jao is a sculptural marvel of natural and recycled materials, of towering, spacious interiors embracing the Okavango's extraordinary natural light and wild areas. Committed to a 100% green operating system, Jao is also a founding member of the Tubu Joint Management Committee which oversees engagement between local communities and the Jao Reserve.
